

Singing Teacher Rosel Labone Talks About Teaching With My Singing Lessons.

I am writing to recommend My Singing Lessons as a platform for all teachers at all levels and stages of the game.

Signing up to My Singing Lessons as a performance voice major with 10 years' operatic experience gave me the confidence to step out of a dead-end, 9-9 job. It was my first experience teaching voice, and naturally I was terrified, but My Singing Lessons made the process incredibly easy.

No sooner had I signed up then I had my first student, and since then I have gone from strength to strength. I quickly fell in love with teaching and enjoyed it as much as performing if not more. I loved how teaching online during the pandemic stretched and developed my skills, and the variety of students who came my way, from beginners without a clear sense of pitch right through to pros, from pop to rock to jazz to classical, meant no one day was the same and made for a truly invigorating teaching experience.

My Singing Lessons platform gave me the utmost faith that I could succeed. Without him, I can truthfully say I would not be teaching successfully.

My Singing Lessons helps with promotional assistance at all stages and gives you additional resources to get started including advertising your services consistently across the internet which brings new clientele.

My Singing Lessons delivers excellent attention to detail and customer care 24/7. I would recommend him to all music teachers wanting to expand their client base.

Regards,

Rosel Labone.
